MUREAN®
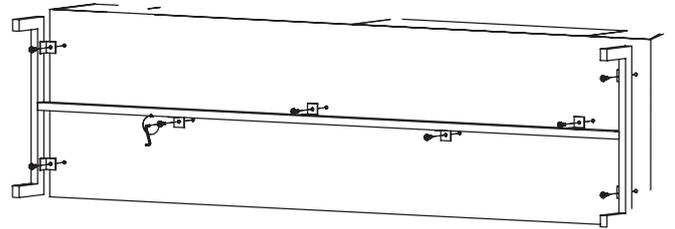

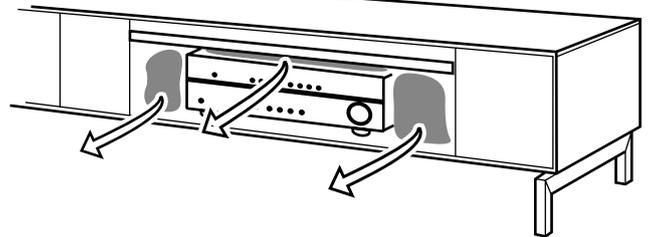

1) Fasten the legs following separate instructions

2) Remove the packaging material around the Yamaha AV-receiver (3 x airbag).

3) Connect the TV-stand and the TV with HDMI-cable. Use the HDMI (ARC) port.

4) Connect the TV power cord to the Cinema extension cord (inside behind the tv-stand)

5) Plug in the Cinema power cord to power outlet.

   Serene Cinema is ready to be used. Make sure the AV-reciever starts up automatically. Test the volume control using the TV-remote.
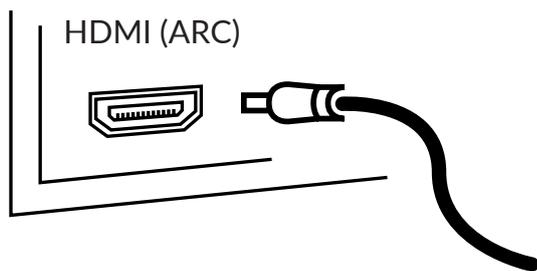

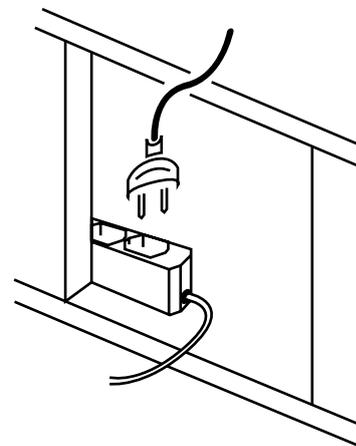

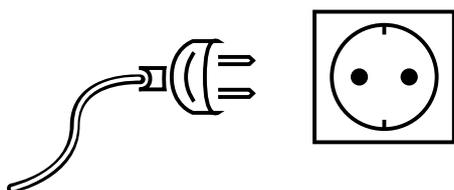

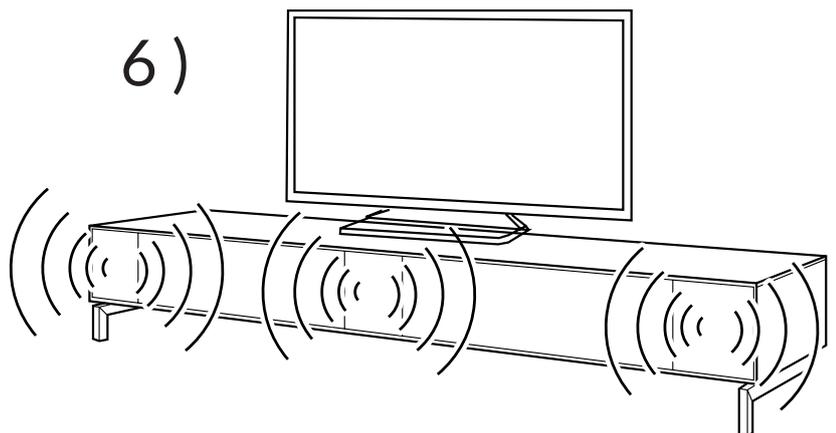

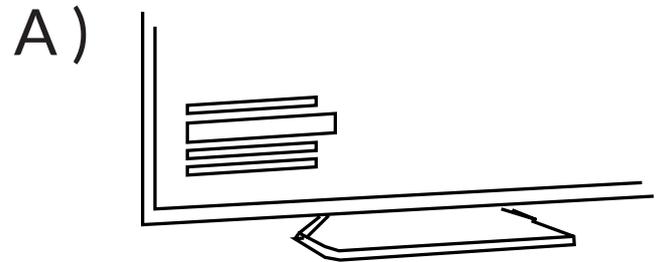

1)
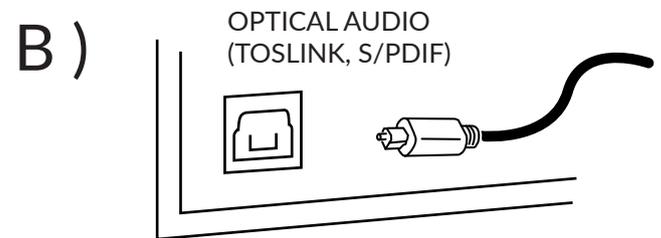

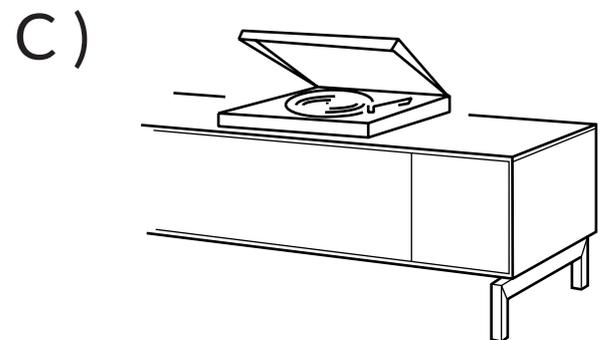

2)

3)

HDMI (ARC)

4)

5)

6)

OPTIONAL

A) If the TV does not connect to the Cinema automatically, switch to the "HOME THEATER" from the tv settings. Make sure Yamaha AV-receiver uses "CINEMA" -input.

A)

B) If the TV does not support the HDMI ARC (CEC) -standard, connect Cinema to TV with optical audio cable (S/PDIF). Make sure Yamaha AV-receiver uses "CINEMA" -input.

B) OPTICAL AUDIO
(TOSLINK, S/PDIF)

C) If separate audio source is to be used, connect player to the Yamaha AV-receiver and make sure the receiver is switched to "AUX" input.

D) To pair the Yamaha av-receiver and a Bluetooth device, hold down "Memory"-button for three seconds. More information on a Yamaha-manual.

C)

- Package containes: Vino Cinema TV-stand, Yamaha -RX-V381 -AV-receiver, power cable, HDMI-cable and Optical-cable.

- Peripherals, such as set-top box, should be connected to the TV by default.

- Volume levels are set to default. Levels and delays can be adjusted from the Yamaha receiver.

- Vino Cinema features acoustic fabrics attached with magnets. Line up the fabrics if they have shifted during the transportation.

- More inofrmation and support can be found online: www.murean.fi/support

- Notable! Warranty void if the product is opened (excluding the front door of the right side)